LECTURE SERIES ON HEALTH REFORM HONORS PETERSON

The Sixth Annual Mary L. Peterson Lecture Series was held on October 18, 1993 at the St. Joseph Medical Center in Wichita, Kansas.

The series was started in 1988 to honor Society member Mary L. Hubbell Peterson (a68v-1307a) when she retired as Vice President of Nursing Services. A St. Joseph employee for 33 years, Mary had worked as a staff nurse, an educator and administrator.

Mary Hubbell
Peterson

The lecture subjects usually concern ethics, quality and professional growth. They provide credit for six contact hours for relicensure for RNs, LPNs, and LMHTs.

The lectures last fall featured

Leah Curtin, editor of Nursing Management and an adjunct faculty member at the University of Cincinnati. She spoke about an assessment for the 90s, quality and outcome management, roles for nurses in a reformed health care system, and initiatives for health reform. The day closed with Mary's successor, Donna Swindle, speaking about designing a health care delivery system.

Mary is the author of the Kansas chapter of Hubbell Pioneers.

NEW GENEALOGY & HISTORY VOLUME GOES TO PRINT

A computer diskette containing the first part of the new Additions & Revisions to the History & Genealogy of the Hubbell Family went to the printers in February. Other diskettes are following and the bound volume of over 1,000 pages will be available this summer.

Use of this modern technology considerably reduces the cost of typesetting and also greatly simplifies proofreading. Donald C. Hubbell arranged with a Minneapolis firm to adapt diskettes to a form which could be used for typesetting by Theo. Gaus, Ltd. of Brooklyn, N.Y. This is the same firm which printed the 1980 History and the 1986 reprint. This time the binding will be stronger.

Harold B. Hubbell

A brochure about the new book was mailed to Society members earlier this month. It announced a special pre-publication price for members of $40 U.S., $54 Canadian. After publication, the price is expected to be $48 U.S. and $65 Canadian. The brochure also listed special prices if the new volume is purchased together with other Society publications of Family Fare (savings of $6 U.S., $7 Canada) or Hubbell Pioneers (savings of $18 U.S., $20 Canadian).

An order blank for the books is on page 7 of this issue of Family Notes.

This will be the fourth volume of family genealogy. The first History of the Hubbell Family by Walter Hubbell was issued in 1881. Walter published a second edition in 1915. Then in 1980, Harold B. and Donald S. Hubbell published the History & Genealogy of the Hubbell Family which added to, corrected and largely replaced the earlier books.

People who had worked with Harold and Donald met at Hubbell House in Mantorville, Minnesota, and launched our Hubbell Family Historical Society in 1981. The research and contributions of many Society members is in this new volume, coordinated by Harold and Leroy Hubble.

The new Volume of Additions & Revisions is basically new information and is meant to be used with the 1980 book rather than replace it. Much more biographical information and many new photographs are contained, as well as genealogy on thousands of new names.

PIG ROAST ON ENGLAND TRIP

A pig roast is being planned by the people of Rock who will prepare a buffet supper on Saturday, June 4, for the Society tour of England, according to a recent letter from Barbara Makepeace of the Friends of Rock Church. The buffet will be followed with dances by a children's group which has appeared on BBC-TV.

That evening is one of seven special features which the group will enjoy on the May 30-June 10 tour besides seeing eight sights connected with the family and numerous other famous places. The other special features include tea and sherry with the Lord Mayor of Oxford, two lectures, luncheon in various homes in Rock, meeting with Beefeater Joe Hubble at the Tower of London, and an Elizabethan banquet.

Reservations for the tour can be accepted as late as the first week of May, according to Jim Bolles, director. His address is 24 Murray Street, Norwalk, Connecticut 06851. His telephone is 203/846-8911.

KEPFORD, NEW CHAIR OF HISTORY, SEEKS PLACE NAME STORIES

Myrna Hubbell Kepford (7806), who is succeeding Dennis M. E. Hubbell as chair of the History and Biography Committee of the Society, is seeking information about places with the name Hubbell, Hubble.

Myrna writes: "Do you know of a town, street, office building, school, company, stream or monument with Hubbell or some variation in the name? We are interested in the details, location, description, a picture and, if possible, the reason for its name.

"Our plans are to compile a booklet of place names. Wouldn't it be fun to have that along as you travel the USA and Canada?

"So get your pencil and paper out. Write your story or list the place names you are aware of. We will place your information in the Hubbell Center in Des Moines. We won't be able to return your stories, so please keep a copy for yourself.

"We hope to hear from you before our next reunion in 1995. Please send your stories about place names to: Myrna Hubbell Kepford, 616 Long Bow, Austin, Texas 78704. Telephone 512/444-3471."

Myrna has previously served the Society as Recording Secretary, on the Board of Directors and several committees. She wrote the Texas chapter of Hubbell Pioneers.

WINDERS INSPIRE FUND FOR CENTER

When Barbara Ann Hubbell Winder (5294) and her husband, Miles Shirley Winder, Jr., M.D., heard about the establishment of the Hubbell Center in Des Moines at the Biennial Reunion last June, they pledged $500 to help defray expenses of the Center.

The Winders stated in their letter to Jack J. Hubbell, chair of the Hubbell Center Committee, that the contribution was given in memory of her father, Joseph Goodwin Hubbell (3711). Joseph, who died in 1952, was a graduate of the University of Minnesota, a longtime associate of the National Inspection Company and active in St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Evanston, Illinois.

In memory of Joseph Hubbell and appreciation of the Winder generosity and initiative, all contributors who give $500 or more will be designated Hubbell/Winder Contributors to the Hubbell Center Fund. Thus far, these include Harold B. Hubbell, Jr., Jack Jerome Hubbell and Mr. and Mrs. James Windsor Hubbell, Jr.

Society President Clifton H. Hubbell says that contributions of any amount to the Hubbell Center Fund will be appreciated.

ROSEMARY'S FAMILY STARTS ALZHEIMER CARE FOUNDATION

The family of Rosemary Hubbell Wirkus (6962) has established a foundation in her name to provide small, private residential care homes for people who, like Rosemary, are suffering from Alzheimers or other memory disorder diseases.

Rosemary was a patron of the 1980 History and Genealogy of the Hubbell Family. She wrote about her grandparents, the portrait painter Henry Salem Hubbell and children's poet Rose Strong Hubbell, and about her parents, husband Leonard and three daughters in the History (pages 661-65). Part of this was reproduced in the Florida chapter of Hubbell Pioneers.

Rosemary Hubbell Wirkus at the 1989 reunion.

One of the founders of the Society in 1981 at Mantorville, Minnesota, Rosemary was its first Secretary. She and Leonard regularly came in their trailer to Biennial Reunions except in 1987 when Leonard fell off a ladder. Rosemary gave permission for a 1906 painting by her grandfather "Tea on the Lawn, Chateau de Rozieres" to be on the cover of Family Fare. The last Society event they attended was the launch of the Hubble Space Telescope in April 1990.

The Rosemary Hubbell Wirkus Foundation has purchased 14 properties through the state of Florida and is transforming these homes into residential care sites. A letter from the Wirkus family dated December 6 says Rosemary is at home with 24-hour nursing care. For other families who feel that large nursing homes are not what they want for a family member, the Rosemary Hubbell Wirkus Homes will offer an alternative.

The letter invited people to contact Laura J. Merriott, Administrator, for further information. The address is Memory Disorder Residential Care Facilities, Inc., 8501 SW 53rd Avenue, Miami, Florida 33143-8409; Telephone 305/662-1969; Fax 305/661-7737. Tax deductible contributions may be sent to the Foundation at the same address.

The three daughters of Rosemary and Leonard are all Society members. Winifred Wirkus Subandi, Ph.D., lives in Surabaya, East Java, Indonesia. Lydia Wirkus is in Chugiak, Alaska. Kathryn Wirkus Lott is in San Bernardino, California.

RAGGEDY ANN MAN AND ROSE HUBBELL

A biography, Johnny Gruelle, the Creator of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, published in May 1993 says Gruelle's first published book illustrations were in 1916 as illustrator for Rose Strong Hubbell's Quacky Doodles and Danny Daddles Book. Rose and her husband Henry Salem Hubbell were living in Silvermine, Connecticut, where Johnny Gruelle and his wife were their neighbors.

Gruelle had patented the doll Raggedy Ann in 1915 but the first stories about Raggedy Ann did not come out until 1918. Prior to his collaboration with Rose, Gruelle had worked as a newspaper artist.

The new biography by folklorist Patricia Hall is an 8 1/2" x 11" artbook of 224 pages, including 85 pages of illustrations. It is published by Pelican.

110 YEARS OF CHEESE MAKING

Two books written in two years—that is the achievement of Society member Aureen Richardson (1147) in Warkworth, Ontario. On November 26, 1993, a 102-page book entitled Warkworth Cheese Country was launched at a special program in Percy Centennial School.

Aureen
Richardson

As reported in the spring 1993 Family Notes, Aureen's first book was Historic Visions of J.D. Kelly about a painter of Canadian events.

People who attended the 1989 Biennial Reunion in Kingston, Ontario, will remember visiting a cheese factory. Hubbles had a factory at one time near Hubble Hill.

The new book describes the history of cheese making and dairy farming in the area. At first rural cheese factories were just a few miles apart because a farmer picking up milk cans from his neighbors would get a wagon load in this distance. The first Warkworth cheese factory opened in 1870 and the last one closed in 1980 when it was sold to a large company.

At the November program, a plaque about the cheese industry was unveiled. It will be erected near the Warkworth Cheese house which attracts customers from a distance. The Fowler family which made cheese for 100 years was recognized. Doug Rowe, who ran a factory for 35 years, was honored. John Rowe brought greetings from Kraft Foods.

SWIFTS COME TO HUBBELL CHIMNEY

The village of Northville, New York, located on the great Sacandaga Lake northwest of Saratoga Springs, celebrates spring each year with the return of swifts to the Hubbell Memorial Chimney, followed by a Village-Wide Garage Sale, according to the Hamilton County News of July 27, 1993.

Other seasonal events in Northville are an old-fashioned Christmas Celebration with unique shops and decorated Victorian houses and an old-fashioned Fourth of July parade and fireworks. Population of the village is about 1200. Does anyone know who or what the Hubbell Chimney memorializes?

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS

Barbara Dawes (5488) and her husband Bob of Markham, Ontario, celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary in 1993. Bob took advantage of early retirement from Bell Telephone in January. Their daughter Jennifer has taken courses in both skydiving and scuba diving while completing work to convert her BA in geography to a BSc. Their son Trevor graduates from college this spring and plans to work in Vancouver. Barbara is a member of the Society's Hubbell Center Committee and Bob is secretary of the Nehemiah Hubble Heritage Association in Ontario.

Aaron Kendal Bybee, son of Society member Teri Hansen Bybee (4672) and grandson of Rosella Hubbell Hansen, married Tonya Marie Henjum on October 13, 1993 in Colville, Washington. Aaron is a truck driver and Tonya is a dental technician.

Wallace Leroy Hubble (7350) has suffered a massive stroke and is now in a nursing home. His wife Catherine has moved from Cisne, Illinois, to 742 Shadwell Drive, Flora, IL 62839.

Miriam Serafina Scheff, a granddaughter of Society Vice President Hilbert Hubble and his wife Joan was born September 19, 1993 to Caroline Hubble and Fredric Scheff in Lawrence, Kansas. The family has since relocated to Rhode Island where Fred will complete his doctoral dissertation and begin his career as an opera singer in New York.

The family of Gary and Marcia Tomlinson (1168) were all involved in musical performances before Christmas. Gary and Marcia had church choir anthems galore and participated in the cantata The Manger King at their church in Bradford, Vermont. Their eldest son Mike went on tour with his college choral group, performed at a madrigal dinner and in Handel's Messiah. Their second son, Geoff, played the role of Nicely Nicely in Guys and Dolls. Their third son, Jay, and his Youth Group did a Christmas Service at church. Patrick, who is six, and Kara were, respectively, a sheep and a cherub in the church pageant. Marcia is secretary of the Society's Scholarship Fund and on the Membership Committee.

Another musical family is that of Jean Hubbell and Lyle Peterson (6359). Jean and Lyle sing in the Dubuque Chorale and church choir. Lyle also is a Barbershopper and the family attended the Annual International Barbershop Contest and Convention in Calgary, Alberta, in July 1993. Their daughter and Society member Sherri Swartz performs in a band in Midland, Michigan. A second daughter, Laurel, sang in a Christmas program at Alma College in Alma, Michigan.

William Maluhia and Barbara Hubbell (4866) cover over 100 miles a day around Laie, Hawaii, taking hearing impaired and other handicapped children to and from school; Bill as driver and Barbara as aide. They take three to a pre-school and eight to an elementary school. Bill, who has a full white beard, was a Santa Claus four times in December.

Smoke from the Altadena, California, firestorm last November set off Dorcas Auger's (2874) smoke alarm, although the fire was 2½ miles away. However, a layer of ash was sprinkled over everything. Dorcas has been a member of the Pack Committee of Cub Scout Pack 156 for 21 years. She is very active in the Order of Amaranth, serving in three different Courts. She teaches history in junior high.

Blanche Harnick (5423) writes "You are sound asleep—then all at once you are wide awake lying on the floor. The noise is deafening and the whole building is shaking like it is going to collapse. Twenty seconds seems like forever. Then help arrives and you get out of the building—only to be evacuated—and thankful to be alive."

This happened at 4:31 a.m. January 17 in Sherman Oaks, California. Blanche's apartment building, although damaged, was eventually approved for reoccupancy. It is located near U.S. Route 101, the Ventura Parkway, in an area where many buildings have been "red tagged" by building inspectors as unsafe and slated for demolition.

An article in the Parade Magazine of November 14, 1993 mentioned John H. Hubbell (5858) as an example of a late recipient of war medals. John's Bronze Star from World War II was not delivered to him until 1984. As a result of the Parade article, John received several letters from long lost war buddies.

Margaret Hubbell Evanoff-McGeorge (6567i) writes that her father Michael is now in a nursing home in Erie, Pennsylvania. Margaret and her 7-year-old son Hubbell visit him often.

HOW-TO BOOK FOR GENEALOGY TYROS

The third edition of Instructions for Beginners in Genealogy was published by the National Genealogical Society in 1993. Its author is Erma Angevine, who directed the correspondence courses for the NGS for eight years and has recently been the President of the Society.

This manual of 44 8½" x 11" pages is written in a clear and readable form. It tells how and where to collect information from both original and published sources and how to keep useful records. Various helpful precautions and suggestions are offered.

Appendices to the manual present a comprehensive list of catalogs and indexes of genealogical records, as well as a bibliography of other manuals and guides.

The book can be ordered as part of a kit which includes blank forms for pedigree charts and family group sheets for $9 from the National Genealogical Society, 4527 17th Street, North Arlington, Va., 22207-2399. The NGS also sells packets of 100 family group sheets or 100 pedigree charts for $9 each.

PRIVACY SUIT AGAINST K-MART

Lewis Hubble and 42 other Kmart Corp. warehouse workers in Manteno, Illinois, have sued the big retailer for spying on their private lives, according to an Associated Press article in the January 21 issue of the Springfield, Missouri News Leader.

The suit was filed in Cook County Circuit Court in September. Hubble says that after he transferred from Fort Wayne in October 1992, Albert Posego sought him out, bought him beer and came to his apartment. The suit contends Posego and at least one other spy worked in the warehouse from sometime in 1992 until they were exposed in April 1993.

The plaintiffs' lawyer says the suit goes to the issue of what was being investigated: where workers shopped, their fishing plans, living arrangements. Kmart says it suspected a theft ring. The case has evoked debate about the ethics of using spies, which is said to be especially common among retailers with thin profit margins.

The cartoon above expressing the wonder people feel about what the repaired Hubble Space Telescope can now reveal is reprinted from the January 15, 1944 issue of The Honolulu Advertiser with permission from Editorial Cartoonist Dick Adair. It recalls Michelangelo's painting in the Sistine Chapel of God touching Adam.

The sensational tabloid Weekly World News goes beyond the idea of a divine spark of inspiration to a screaming headline "HEAVEN PHOTOGRAPHED BY HUBBLE TELESCOPE" in its February 8, 1994 issue. The article quotes an "author and researcher" Dr. Marcia Masson to the effect that the "pictures clearly show a vast white city eerily floating in the blackness of space." She says "the city is definitely Heaven because life as we know it couldn't possibly exist in icy, airless space."

The article said that NASA spokesmen declined to comment and that Vatican sources would not confirm that Pope John had received copies of the photographs.

MEMBER AT CAPE FOR REPAIR SHUTTLE LAUNCH

Society member David G. Hubbell (8330) of Long Beach, California, was in Cape Canaveral at the time of the launch of the space shuttle Endeavor whose crew repaired the Hubble Space Telescope in December.

David is assigned from the U.S. General Accounting Office to the staff of the House Appropriations Committee to check on the state of space launch facilities. His work focuses on unmanned rockets and it was a coincidence that he was at the Cape at the time of the Endeavor launch. Of course he accepted when the Air Force offered to take his team out on the causeway where the public can not go.

When the Air Force driver came to the motel to pick up the team, people in the lobby thought the request for a Mr. Hubbell was a joke, since the Hubble was the reason for the launch.

The launch was cancelled the first day because of high wind. David had flown in the day before and been waked at 3:30 a.m. to see the launch. By evening he was exhausted and so slept through the actual lift-off the next day. However shortly after the lift-off he woke and saw the launch from 21 different cameras on the NASA cable channel.

Crew patch of the telescope repair flight.

AND HOW WAS YOUR WINTER?

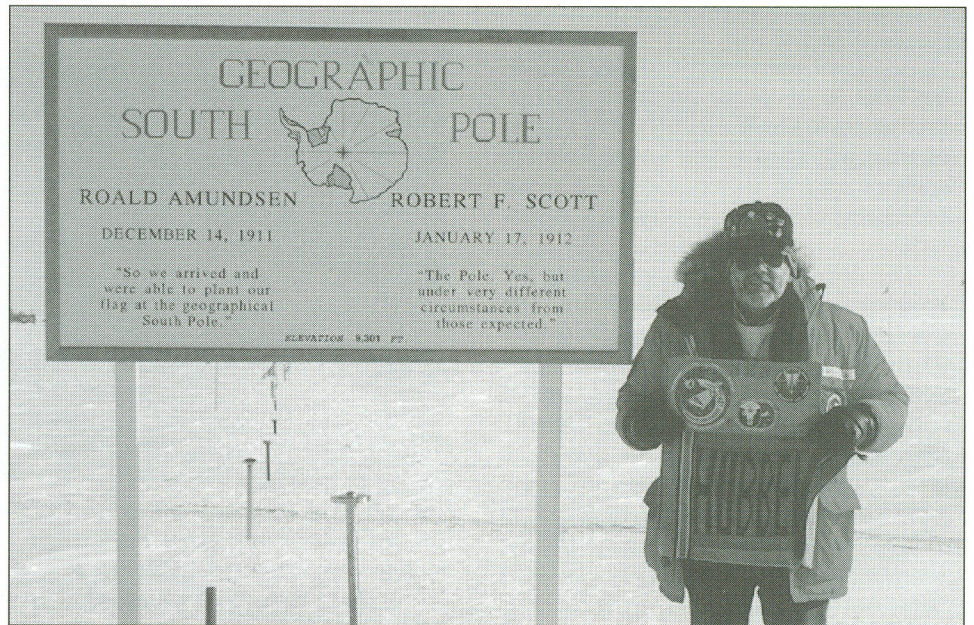

While many of us simply endured the record-breaking winter of 1993-94, at least two Society members found ways to enjoy cold weather and snow—one at the South Pole and the other snowmobiling in Wisconsin.

Society member Matthew Nelson (1310) of Bacliff, Texas, is shown (right) on his sixth trip to the South Pole, which occurred in January of this year. Matt chose to be photographed with Hubbell mementoes, including a Navajo rug from the Trading Post with the name Hubbell and various NASA crew patches about the Hubble Space Telescope.

Matt is a communications engineer with Lockheed working on a satellite communications project which provides information about ozone to the National Science Foundation. He gets to the Antarctic by plane from New Zealand to a base at McMurdos Sound and then transfers to a C-130 plane which reaches the pole in about 3½ hours.

Between 25 and 50 men are stationed at the South Pole at any one time. They live in insulated huts. Most of Matt's stays last a week. The temperature is around 25 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, which is not unlike what Society members in various midwest locations experienced this winter.

Matt reports that this spring the satellite Pegasus will be launched in a polar orbit from an aircraft carrier for the TOMS Project (Total Ozone Mapping Spectrometer).

Matthew Nelson (1310) of Bacliff, Texas is shown on his sixth trip to the South Pole, which occurred in January of this year.

Alfred Hubbell (5918) and his wife Judi of Janesville, Wisconsin, are enthusiastic snowmobilers. Judi is secretary of the Rock County Alliance of Snowmobile Clubs, who oversee the maintenance of trails.

The snapshots below show Al and Judi with their vehicles on the Hubbell farm, where they raise beef cattle and feed. The farm was settled in 1854. It appears that they wear more protection against the cold than Matt does in the Antarctic!

The family farm is a secondary occupation of Al, who received a clock/barometer last year as an award for 25 years of service at General Motors in Janesville.

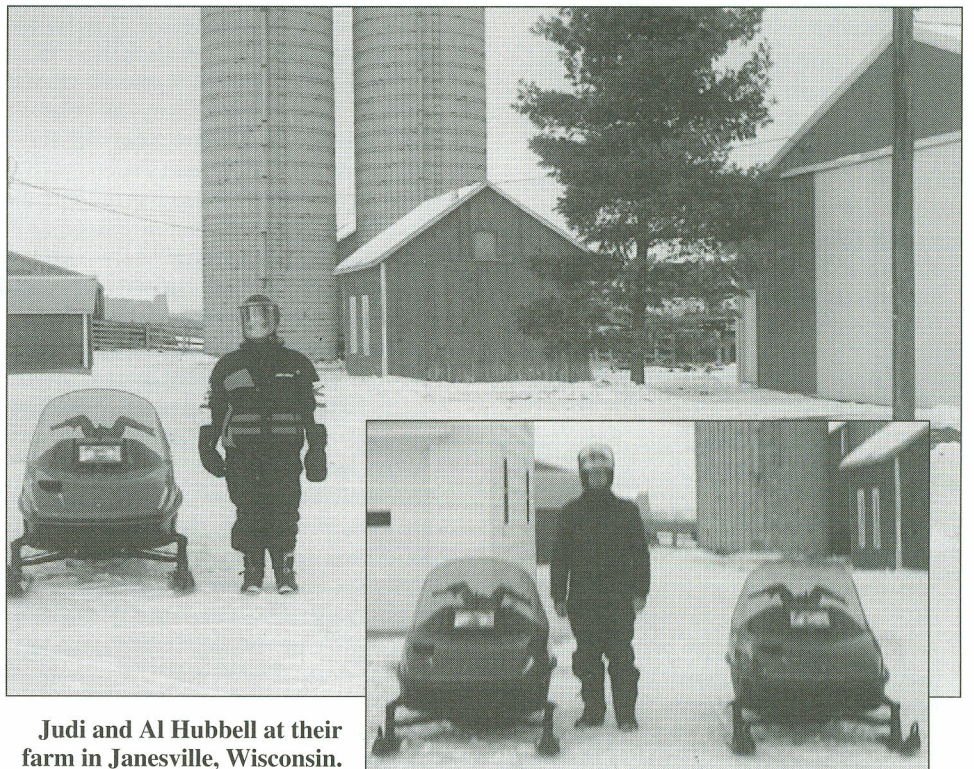

Al and Judi's youngest daughter Lucy performed at the Sunshine Bowl football game in December. She plays saxophone in the marching band of the University of Wisconsin at La Crosse. Their third daughter, Nancy (Mrs. Ross Starfeldt) recently earned an MA degree in statistics and is employed by West Publishing Co. in Minneapolis.

THANK YOU!

Over five dozen members of our family are mentioned in this issue of Family Notes. That indicates that many of you responded to your editor's request for letters, clippings and pictures.

Please keep them coming. Let us know about your activities and adventures; about marriages, births and anniversaries; about awards, recognitions, degrees and publications. Clippings which mention a Hubbell/Hubbel/Hubbel/Hubel/Huble, even if not a Society member, are also welcome. Please include the name and date of the newspaper so credit can be given.

You can send items to Society headquarters or directly to the editor: Robert L. Hubbell, 102 Wineberry Drive, Winchester, Va. 22603.

LAMACCIA APPLES IN TV SHOW ABOUT FORGOTTEN FRONTIER

A TV documentary called The Forgotten Frontier about the migration of New Englanders to the Western Reserve section of Ohio will show action scenes from the apple orchard of Society member Jeanette LaMacchia (48 & 56) in Shelton, Connecticut.

The documentary is nearly ready for broadcasting over public television. The cameramen came to Shelton on September 25, 1993 to photograph three scenes: two young men and a small boy picking ears of corn, an actor portraying the Rev. Timothy Dwight strolling through a pumpkin patch with an antique wheelbarrow and some pumpkins, and apple picking by members of the 5th Connecticut Regiment of the Connecticut Line and women and children in period costumes.

Last June, Society members at the Biennial Reunion saw the 5th Connecticut Regiment and their families at the picnic at Hubbell Farm in Shelton. Jeannette chaired the Program Committee which arranged the Biennial.

Jeanette LaMacchia with a basket of Gilliflower apples

Jeanette's orchards were selected because they grow apple varieties that date back to colonial times. These include the Baldwin, which can be traced to the 1790's, Roxbury Russets which date back to the 1600's, and Gilliflowers, which go back to the 1740's.

The Forgotten Frontier is being sponsored by the Western Reserve Historical Society of Cleveland, Ohio, the Fairfield (Connecticut) Historical Society and various other donors. It is being produced by Lois Cunniff, an Ohioan who worked for CBS News before establishing her own firm in 1986. She was the senior production executive for Voices and Visions, a PBS series on American poetry.

The film deals with the movement of Revolutionary War veterans and others from Connecticut in the late 18th and early 19th centuries to the 52 by 152 mile rectangle on the shore of Lake Erie which Connecticut "reserved" when it ceded the rest of its claims to western lands to the newly formed U.S. Federal government. This pioneering migration included some Hubbells and their relatives (see Hubbell Pioneers and 1993 Annual).

Members of the Ashtabula Wagon Train and Lake County Farm Park volun- teered to help re-enact various scenes from the movement West—most of them set in the "Ohio Fever" period, ca. 1816.

Although filmed in two States, the documentary is designed to be of interest to all Americans as a story of the first national frontier which set a pattern for later frontiers. Two themes intertwine—Order and The Land. In the dynamic period between 1790 and 1830, many Americans were helping the political process of defining a nation and were also reshaping the land.

Scenes in Connecticut outside of Shelton will represent the farm and school of the Rev. Timothy Dwight, who encouraged the migration and whose Travels will be quoted. Places included will be an herb garden at the Ogden House in Fairfield, the Bates-Scofield Homestead in Darien, classrooms at the Mill Hill School in Norwalk and East Village Schoolhouse in Monroev.

The rectilinear pattern of land survey, the rule of law and assertion of independence within tight social norms will be portrayed in scenes from Ashtabula, Kirtland, Tallmadge and Hudson, Ohio, all of which have architecture like that in New England, and by quoting from letters of Jared Porter Kirtland, a physician/naturalist; Elias Loomis, an astronomer, and others.

In addition to being on television, the film will be used along with teaching manuals in schools, with endorsements by the state Departments of Education and Humanities Councils in Ohio and Connecticut.

DEATHS REPORTED

Word about four deaths last year reached your editor after the 1993 Annual had gone to print. We regret that this information was not included in last year's Necrology and express our sympathy to their families.

Ethel Hubble Hoffee (7360), wife of Emmitt E. Hoffee of Fairfield, Illinois, died August 18, 1993. She was 86. She and Emmitt had been married 69 years.

Delmer Fullerton Hubbell, Jr. (6047) of Scottsdale, Arizona, died August 23, 1993. He was 80. He had been Chairman of the Board of M & T Discount Corporation, dealers in bankers acceptances in New York City.

Sylvia Sherk Hubbell, wife of Harry H. Hubbell, Jr. (4880) of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, died November 14, 1993, at age 77. She and Harry were married over 52 years.

Betty Louise Hubble, wife of Cloyd Burton Hubble (7369) of Olney, Illinois, died November 17, 1993 at age 74. She and Cloyd celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary June 19.

BEAUTY PAGEANT CONTESTANT

Victoria Long

Victoria Long, granddaughter of Society members Glenford and Lillian Hubbell (6172) of Cooperstown, New York, was scheduled to compete during spring break this year in the Miss Hawaiian Tropic International Beauty Pageant at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Victoria was the winner of a Hawaiian Tropic Beauty Pageant held July 24, 1993 in Cooperstown, New York. Her prize was a week's cruise on the ship Norway of the Norwegian Cruise Line, as well as eligibility to compete at Daytona Beach.

THREE WEDDINGS IN CARNEY CLAN

Three weddings have occurred recently in the family of Society member Eva Hubbell Carney (4671) of La Habra, California.

Her son, Burton Owen Carney, himself a Society member, married Edith Joy Newman on December 18, 1993 in Santa Fe Springs, California. Burt is Director of State Legislative Issues for the Association of Christian Schools International. Edith was a supervisory systems analyst with the Department of Defense in Arizona. They have purchased a condominium in Colorado Springs where the ACSI will move its national offices.

The maid of honor was Edith's daughter Debbie. Burt was a life-long bachelor who met Edith through ads in a Christian singles newsletter. Debbie had screened her mother's suitors for 14 years. She said Edith better answer Burt's first letter!

Eva's granddaughter, Ruth Griggs, married Sal Salvador on November 6, 1993. Sal is a music sound technician.

Another granddaughter, Lisa Carney, daughter of Society member Carol Lynn Carney Thompson, married Robert St. Clair on November 14, 1992. They met at a Tour Director's Institute and are leading tours together in the Mediterranean.

BIRTHDAY AT TERRACE HILL

Three first cousins who are great-grandchildren of Frederick Marion Hubbell of Des Moines, Iowa, chat with Governor Terry Branstad at Terrace Hill, the former Hubbell mansion and now the Governor's residence. The occasion was the 60th birthday of Society member Anne Thorne Weaver (5829) daughter of Virginia Hubbell Thorn, on May 17, 1993.

her cousin James Windsor, son of Mary Belle Hubbell Windsor.

Anne is now a resident of Omaha. She is active in many community and church activities, including the Methodist Hospital Foundation Board, the Salvation Army's Women's Auxiliary Board, the Omaha Symphony Board, the Uta Halee Home for Girls, and St. Alban's Episcopal Church. She has four children.

Society members who attended the second Biennial Reunion in 1985 visited Terrace Hill.

15 GRANDCHILDREN AT 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Leroy and Mary Hubble (7380) celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on December 1, 1993. They had met when Leroy, a civil engineer, went to Hinton, West Virginia, to work on Bluestone Dam.

The climax of their celebration came between Christmas and New Years when all of the family, including 15 grandchildren, gathered at the farm in Cisne, Illinois. Leroy and

Leroy

Mary

The newest grandchild, Clare Suzanne Roman, was born in May.

Leroy is a co-ordinator of the Additions and Revisions volume being published by the Society this summer. He is also chairman of the Society's Finance Committee. He served as Society President 1985-87.

Mary's five children are Society members: Carl Leroy of Bellville, Texas; Shara Yednock of Birminham, Michigan; Robin Saban of Cisne, Illinois; Howell Kent of Houston, Texas; and Holly Roman of Ponca City, Oklahoma.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA RESORT PICKED FOR 1995 BIENNIAL REUNION

The location and dates for the seventh Biennial Reunion of the Society in 1995 have been selected for family vacations, according to Society President Clifton Hubbell.

The location is the Radisson Inn at Lake Natoma in Folsom, California, 30 miles east of Sacramento, just off U.S. Route 50. The dates are Tuesday, August 16 through Saturday, August 20.

The Radisson Inn is a resort in a natural wooded setting overlooking Lake Natoma. The resort itself has a swimming pool and jacuzzi, putting green, sand volleyball, and basketball. It is a block from historic Sutter Street. Nearby is Folsom Lake State Park with canoe, kayak, and sailing, fishing, horseback riding, bicycling and walking paths, golf and tennis. Attractions for bus tours include the site of gold discovery and reconstructed pioneer buildings on the Sacramento River.

The newly-appointed co-chairs of the Program Committee, Clifford and Nancy Hubbell Moses (6340) of Citrus Heights, California, are strong believers in family activities, having eight children of their own. Many Society members are acquainted with Nancy's parents, Ezra and Mary Hubbell of Thamesville, Ontario, since they have attended several Biennials and the Hubble Telescope Launch.

Program Committee members from the northern California area (see 1993 Annual for names) met twice in March. The first time was with Bernice Treleven, who flew from Toronto to Los Angeles to see her sister Blanche Harnick, and then drove with Blanche and her son Stewart Harnick to Sacramento. Bernice had been in charge of the 1989 reunion. The group then met later in March to decide on the location. Future meetings will deal with program events and logistics.
